

Report on Departmental Student Seminar

A Departmental Student Seminar was organized by the Department of Economics, Jagannath Singh College, Udharbond, Cachar, Assam on 29 October 2025 on the theme "Data Analysis in Economics." The objective of the seminar was to develop students' understanding of analytical methods in economics and to provide them with an opportunity to present their research ideas related to the theme.

The seminar was coordinated by Dr. Minhaj Uddin Barbhuiya, Assistant Professor and Head of the Department, Department of Economics, Jagannath Singh College, Udharbond, Cachar, who also delivered the keynote address. In the keynote speech, Dr. Minhaj Uddin Barbhuiya highlighted the growing importance of data analysis in economic research and policy-making. The address emphasized how statistical tools and data-driven approaches help economists understand economic trends, evaluate policies, and make informed decisions.

A total of five students presented research papers on different topics related to the seminar theme. Their presentations reflected various aspects of data analysis in economics and demonstrated the students' efforts in applying analytical methods to contemporary economic issues. Dr. Minhaj Uddin Barbhuiya guided the students in preparing their seminar papers for presentation.

The paper presentation sessions were moderated by Dr. Minhaj Uddin Barbhuiya and Dr. Susmita Paul, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Jagannath Singh College, Udharbond, Cachar, Assam who guided the discussions, provided constructive feedback to the presenters, and facilitated interaction between the participants and the audience.

The seminar concluded with an engaging discussion session where students and faculty members exchanged ideas and suggestions. The programme proved to be a valuable academic platform for students to enhance their understanding of data analysis in economics and to develop their research and presentation skills.
